

Call for proposals

„HessenFonds“-scholarship for refugees and researchers at risk – highly qualified students, doctoral students and researchers at Philipps-Universität Marburg

Funding line for refugee students, doctoral students and researchers

The Hessian Ministry of Higher Education, Research, Science and the Arts (HMWK) provides scholarships at the state universities of Hesse within the framework of the "HessenFonds for refugees and researchers at risk – highly qualified students and researchers". The funding supports the continuation of studies or a scientific career at the state universities of Hesse and normally lasts one year. Students are to be supported primarily in the introductory phase of their studies.

Eligibility:

- status as a person entitled to asylum or as a recognized refugee (usually according to §25 Par.1 or 2, or §24 Residence Act) or residence according to §22
- eligible applicants are not longer than four years registered in Germany, i.e. the asylum request has not been submitted longer than four years ago and the continuous stay in Germany does not exceed five years
- Subsequent applications are possible once and must be justified separately.

Students:

- enrollment at Philipps-Universität Marburg
- outstanding academic achievements

Doctoral students:

- outstanding scientific achievements
- acceptance as doctoral candidate incl. confirmation of supervision at Philipps-Universität Marburg (acceptance by the doctoral committee as well as a letter of recommendation by the supervisor incl. assessment of the nominee's scientific achievements).

Researchers:

- outstanding achievements in research and/or teaching
- confirmation of a research or teaching position as well as confirmation of supervision by the Philipps-Universität Marburg (in the form of a letter of recommendation or letter from the host, including an assessment of the nominee's scientific achievements, also with regard to integration in the research area).

Scope of funding:

The HessenFonds scholarship includes the following scholarship rates:

- Students: 300 euros/month
- Doctoral students: 1,200 euros/month
- Researchers: 2,300 euros/month

Funding period:

01 October 2024 to 30 September 2025

Further information and details on the website.

Application procedure

Applications must be submitted directly to the Philipps-Universität Marburg. For the application please use the forms from the website, further documents to be submitted can be found in the forms. Please send the signed application form in PDF format as well as the required attachments in a summarized PDF document and in the indicated order by no later than to pia.schoengarth@verwaltung.uni-marburg.de .

31 July 2024

The following selection process consists of two steps. In the first step, Philipps-Universität Marburg nominates qualified applicants in a ranking list via the President at the Hessian Ministry of Higher Education, Research, Science and the Arts. The internal university nomination procedure is regulated by Philipps-Universität Marburg. In the second step, the Hessian Ministry of Science and Art (HMWK) makes the final selection of scholarship holders according to the award criteria.

It takes up to three months for the HMWK to review the documents of the nominated applicants and to make the selection. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Ms. Pia Schöngarth. Please refrain from sending inquiries to the HMWK.

A subsequent application is only possible in exceptional cases and has to be reasoned.

Award criteria

The HessenFonds scholarships are awarded on the basis of talent and performance to students, doctoral students or researchers with a refugee background. The following criteria, among others, are used to assess the performance and talent of the candidates:

- Ranking by the nominating university
- Grades of the university entrance qualification or, if applicable, the first university degree
- Previous academic achievements in the home country and in Germany (if available) or previous achievements in research and/or teaching
- Assessment by the expert opinion
- Description of the doctoral or research project
- Letter of motivation
- If applicable, voluntary work, special achievements
- Proof of appropriate language skills, if applicable

There is no legal claim to the granting of a scholarship.

Contact

For any questions regarding the scholarship and application documents, please contact Ms. Pia Schöngarth, pia.schoengarth@verwaltung.uni-marburg.de, 06421-28 26813.